Pennsylvania Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference

Call for Presentations

The Pennsylvania Governor's Occupational Safety & Health Conference is held each year at the end of October at the Hershey Lodge. The Advisory Committee plans, organizes and executes the conference. An essential subcommittee, the Program Committee, is tasked with creating an agenda and obtaining speakers for the conference. The conference draws approximately 1,100 people each year and over 70 vendors set up exhibits. The 2019 conference keynotes and workshops have been selected.

The 2020 conference will be held October 26 & 27. The planning committee will begin reviewing proposals in January.

The main purpose of our program is to help attendees keep up with the latest changes to safety laws, regulations, and best practices. We want our attendees to leave the conference with a better understanding of the laws and regulations their firms must comply with and that affect their areas of responsibility. Our attendees include safety directors, facility supervisors, insurance company representatives, health care professionals, and labor and government representatives.

We are seeking keynote and workshop presentations:

- Topics: Construction, Workers' Compensation, Ergonomics, Health Care, Labor Relations, Culture and General Industry Safety
- Workshops are 75 minutes or 90 minutes
- No company or product promotion is permitted
- In order to keep registration costs low, workshop presenters are not paid an honorarium. Presenters are responsible for their own travel, accommodations and related expenses.

Submitting a proposed presentation:

Please submit your proposed presentation starting in December, but no later than March 30 for the upcoming conference. Proposals not selected for the 2020 conference may be considered for the 2021 conference.

Please indicate in your proposal if your session should be considered for a keynote or workshop presentation. You will be notified promptly regarding the status of your proposal after consideration by the Program Committee.
